

What Can Students Expect In Beginning Oil Painting Class?

I start out by focusing on the most important elements required to produce a painting. Learning values, for example, are critical because values create form.

It's how you make a circle look like a ball.

It's how you paint 3 dimensional objects on a 2 dimensional canvas.

We will learn this by doing several painting exercises.

Other elements for painting are composition and color.

We will do painting exercises to learn how to properly apply them.

Through painting exercises we will learn how to create a solid foundation on which to build a good painting.

I call it "Once Learned, Forever Used" techniques. Once learned, we are armed with the "Know How" to paint any subject we want.

What paint colors will we use in this class?

This is the fun part for me!

My students will learn how to mix paint to create any color imaginable using only 3 colors, plus white.

Any color, even browns and blacks, can be created by using red, yellow, and blue.

It always amazes me!

The added benefit is you can save a lot of money on paint! You only need 3 colors, plus white.

How do we know what art supplies we will need?

My supply list is on the Hayner website at troyhayner.org.

It's easy to download so you can use it as your shopping list.

The supplies I provide will get you started.

These supplies will be provided to you for in class use.

- Gamsol Oderless Mineral Spirits,
- Winsor & Newton Linseed Stand Oil,
- Winsor & Newton Original Liquid,
- Stretched Canvases

Eventually, you will want to purchase these items for painting at home. Practice makes perfect! And who knows, there may even be homework from time to time!
