

Hello!

I hope you all enjoyed some extra time with your families over the winter break. For those of you who are new, a little information about myself. I have always loved art and have been doodling, drawing, painting and basically doing anything to express my creative side for as long as I can remember. Following high school, I graduated from The School of Advertising Art, currently known as The Modern College of Design. After working for a couple of years designing monuments and memorials, I took some time off to care for my family. During that time, I enjoyed doing freelance artwork, my favorite of which was painting children's murals. In my free time now days, you can often find me immersed in the pages of my sketchbook creating whimsical creatures with my watercolor markers. I am blessed to be able to balance my work at the Hayner Center, while also teaching art to students at Troy Christian Elementary School and The Miami County Cooperative Learning Center.

My goal with the Home School Art Program is to help the students build a strong art foundation, teach basic art and design principles, as well as expose students to art history and famous artists and art styles. My lesson plans will cover a variety of mediums and techniques.

A place for your child can be reserved by registering online or stopping by the Hayner Center anytime. Pre-payment is required.

If you know of anyone who might be interested in taking home school art, I would really appreciate it if you pass along the information for my classes or have them contact the Hayner Center or myself directly.

I hope your child will join us and I look forward to a great semester! Please feel free to call or text me with any questions at 937-216-4999.

Sincerely,

Dawn (Flory) Babylon
